The Printed Catalogue

The printing of the catalogue of accessions from 1900 to 1950 is now in ight. In the last Bulletin we could make no promise of early publication, ince a work such as this has to be heavily subsidised and only part of the ost can be found from available funds or expected sales. It is still not ossible to promise a definite date but the prospect is much clearer. For this e are indebted to the Sir Halley Stewart Trustees who made a generous romise of £250 provided the whole sum needed as subsidy was raised within welve months. We are indebted also to the Edward Cadbury Trustees, who ave promised a similar sum on the same condition, and to the Barrow and eraldine Cadbury Trustees, the Cassel Educational Trustees, the Reyner rustees, the Wallace Alfred Smith Charity and the Goldsmiths' Company r gifts, which at the date of going to press, bring us within sight of the total eeded.

Meanwhile, the work of producing the copy for the printer, in the capable ands of Miss D. M. Johnson, has reached an advanced stage of preparation, that once a firm order can be given for printing, there should be a minimum delay before completion; indeed, a part of the catalogue (separable and mplete in itself) is already being printed since funds were sufficient for this art even if the whole could not be completed.

Bibliography of Early Nonconformity

The Library is indebted to the Pilgrim Trustees for renewing and in- easing their grant for the continuation of the work on the bibliography. he Library is also indebted to the Hibbert Trustees for continuing to make grant for this purpose. The work is to be speeded up and all the books om the first half of the Eighteenth Century should be in the Bibliography ithin two years.

Both for Dr. Williams's Library and in general use the Eighteenth ntury section of the work is likely to prove the most valuable because less bliographical work has been done on this century. Certain changes have en made in doing this part of the work and the entries are being prepared in ch a form that any completed part of the catalogue can be made readily ailable to libraries with special interest in bibliographical work on English urch History during this century.

Gifts to the Library

We are indebted to Mr. Corliss F. Randolph and to the Seventh Day Baptist Historical Society of America for following up their gift last year of a photographic copy of the Mill Yard Minutes with a further gift this year of a similar copy of the Minutes of the Francis Bampfield Church. These gifts have now been added to the Library's considerable collection of MSS. and reproductions of records of Nonconformity. It will be of interest also to workers in this field to know that the first three extant volumes of the Minute Books (1727–1827) of the Body of Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the Three Denominations have been deposited in the Library. Another interesting gift consists of a considerable number of volumes and pamphlets connected with the work of the Catholic Apostolic Church.

A large number of books have been presented to the Library during the year and our thanks are due to the Baptist Union; the Congregational Union; the Guildhall Library; the Governors of King Edward's School, Birmingham; John Rylands Library; Lincoln City Library; the University of London; Mrs. J.
